Nothing will ever be the same again
(So many centuries)

Graham Kendrick

1. So many centuries of watching and waiting, but when the moment came, well nobody saw,
   traders and travellers hurried by,
   and life went on just like before.
   hasn’t it always been this way?

2. In all the clamour just a new baby crying,
   one more poor family shut out in the cold.
   Nothing unusual, sad to say,
   tonight could be your Bethlehem

3. So rare we recognise our history in the making Meet angels unawares and pass on our way
   Blind to the moment of destiny
   While precious years just slip away, slip away

4. And now a door is standing open before you Casting its light into the darkness around
   Stop for a moment, step inside
   Tonight could be your Bethlehem
just like before.

But nothing will ever be the same again,

this night has changed everything.

Nothing will ever be the same again, since the night he came.
To continue

Em7  Fmaj7  Em7  Fmaj7

D.C.

came.

To middle section

A child is born, a

C

Son is giv'n, and his Kingdom of peace

Bb/D  C/E  F  C  F/A

will never end.
child is born, a Son is giv'n,
and his Kingdom of peace will never end, never end, no!

Chorus D.S.

And